

Paula Charuhas Macris, MS, RD, CSO, FAND
Seattle, Washington
pcharuha@seattlecca.org

Paula has worked at the Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center/Seattle Cancer Care Alliance for the past 29 years as the Nutrition Education Coordinator/Pediatric Nutrition Specialist. Paula's area of expertise is hematopoietic cell transplantation. She is involved in patient care, clinical research, food safety education, and training of dietetic interns.

Paula has presented at over 100 local, national, and international conferences and has published over 50 review articles, research papers, and book chapters. Her involvement with ON DPG has included Western Area Representative, Continuing Education Chair, past symposium speaker, author of practice group publications, and reviewer of the Oncology Nutrition Connection. She was also recently elected as ON DPG treasurer. Paula speaks to either lay or health care professional audiences on Hematopoietic Cell Transplantation – both adults and pediatrics; Food Safety Education for Immunosuppressed Patients; Graft-vs-Host Disease.